

Presenting with Impact

A highly interactive presentations skills programme that prepares you to deliver powerful presentations with impact

Presenting with Impact

This programme is designed to develop your skills in delivering powerful and memorable presentations with confidence to any audience without the reliance on slides or speaking notes.

This 2-day programme has been developed to support anyone who is required to give presentations or speak in public. The course will provide you with the confidence and skills to craft and deliver effortless presentations for any audience. This training is highly experiential; over the 2 days you will have the opportunity to practice the key skills, receive meaningful feedback and learn from others on the course as they also practice their skills.

Presenting with Impact is delivered as an open programme or as an in-house course. The course is delivered to a maximum of 10 delegates where you will be working each day with 5 other participants, this provides an opportunity to maximise presentation time and the confidence of working in a small group.
